

Published on TelSoc (<https://telsoc.org>)

Home > What influences international differences in broadband prices?

Read more [1]

What influences international differences in broadband prices?

Viktor Grechyn [2]

Ian McShane [3]

Tue, 28 Feb 2017 - 12:30pm AEDT

Viktor Grechyn

Ian McShane

Viktor Grechyn [4] Viktor Grechyn graduated from Kiev-Mohyla Academy (Kiev, Ukraine) with a Master's degree in economic theory. From 2009-2015 he worked as an independent consultant, and in research fellow and senior research fellow positions in Ukraine. Viktor is currently a PhD scholar at RMIT University, researching the evaluation of public Wi-Fi infrastructure. His research interests cover innovation economics, pricing, the economics of the Internet, digital economy, social networks, the international economy and game theory.

Ian McShane [5] Dr Ian McShane is Senior Research Fellow and Deputy Director at RMIT University's Centre for Urban Research. He is currently a chief investigator of the Australian Research Council-funded project Public Wi-Fi as Urban Infrastructure the Australian Case. Ian's research interests encompass urban policy, local infrastructure and community services, and education systems.

Source URL: https://telsoc.org/event/vic/2017-02-28/what_influences_international_differences_broadband_prices

Links

[1] https://telsoc.org/event/vic/2017-02-28/what_influences_international_differences_broadband_prices

[2] https://telsoc.org/events/presenters/viktor_grechyn

[3] https://telsoc.org/events/presenters/ian_mcshane

[4] https://telsoc.org/sites/default/files/images/event_description/viktorgrechyn.jpg

[5] https://telsoc.org/sites/default/files/images/event_description/ianmcshane.jpg