The Australian Journal of Telecommunications and the Digital Economy march issue is now available. Yes it is a little late but better late than never!

The Journal is transitioning onto a new platform to use an industry standardised approach to paper management and also to permit the Journal to reach a broader audience. Another key factor in the decision to move to the Open Journal System is it will permit the Journal to be indexed and ranked which is an important requirement if we wish to attract high value papers and articles.

Be prepared for the June issue which will only appear on the OJS. To read the June issue you should register at <http://telsoc.org/ajtde> [3] now! If you have any problems or questions about OJS please contact Mark Gregory

The March issue can be found on the new OJS platform at <http://www.telsoc.org/ajtde> [4] or at its old location at <http://telsoc.org/ajtde/2015-04-v3-n1/> [5]
