

TelSoc Online Event: Luke Coleman: Election Preview The telecoms industry agenda for the 48th Parliament

Wednesday, 30th April 2025 – from 12.30 pm AEST

TelSoc has pleasure in announcing its next online event on Wednesday 30th April, from 12.30 p.m.

With just weeks to go until the Federal election, Communications Alliance CEO Luke Coleman will present on the industry's top priorities for the next term of Parliament.

As with all TelSoc lunchtime events, Luke's presentation will be followed by a Q&A session in which TelSoc members and industry colleagues will be able to raise questions and issues. Past experience suggests that these sessions can be incredibly interesting and informative. Given Luke's substantial and diverse experience in the Australia, his presentation and participation in the Q&A promises to be outstanding.

About Luke Coleman: Luke Coleman is a telecommunications industry expert with close to 20 years' experience in public and private sector roles. Luke joined Communications Alliance as CEO in September 2024, having previously worked as head of government and corporate affairs at Vocus, as Chief of Staff and senior policy adviser to two Ministers for Communications, as public policy and communications manager at Huawei, and as the editor-in-chief of Communications Day.

Please join us and Luke Coleman on 30 April 2025.

Participation is FREE but you must REGISTER on the TelSoc website at telsoc.org/events in order to receive a meeting link before the event.

Registration process:

1. Click on the website, telsoc.org/events and follow the prompts for the Luke Coleman event. It will be easy to do so, if you are a financial TelSoc member.
2. If you are not a current financial member, you will be invited to join. Please consider doing so. The objectives of TelSoc and benefits of joining are set out elsewhere on the website.
3. If you are not a financial member and do not wish to join right now, or if you are having any difficulty registering, please send your name and email contact to jim.holmes@telsoc.org and he will register you manually – provided he hears from you before 4 pm on 29 April 2025.